From a directory of therapists to one team you can trust

Since 2014, My Fit Brain has helped people across India and abroad find a therapist. Now we are building our own in-house team. Clients who meet Dr. Neha Mehta in a webinar take their assessment with us, and our own qualified counsellors carry the care forward.

That change needs a brand that feels like one team, not a marketplace. The old logo and the line "We Care For Your Emotions" no longer fit what we do or who we serve.

What the new brand must do

- Feel safe for someone who has never spoken to anyone before
- Carry Dr. Neha's trust to the whole team
- Work for individuals, couples, teens, corporates and NRIs
- Stay calm and premium — never loud, never fear-based
- Read clearly from a 16-pixel favicon to a hoarding

Our purpose and promise

Purpose

To give every Indian, wherever they live, a safe and qualified place to talk.

Promise

Space to speak.

Who we serve

Individuals, couples and families, teens and young adults, working professionals, NRIs, schools and companies.

Personality

Warm

We sound like a person, not a clinic.

Qualified

Our team is trained and supervised. We say 'qualified', never 'licensed'.

Private

What is said here stays here. We never make anyone feel exposed.

Rooted

We understand Indian families, languages and pressures — at home and abroad.

Calm

No urgency tricks, no fear. We give people room to decide.

An open space, with you at the centre

The open bubble

A speech bubble with open space inside. It says: this is a place to talk, and there is room for you.

The bindu

The coral dot is the person at the centre of the conversation. In Indian culture the bindu is the point where things begin.

The coral i-dots

The dots on both "i"s in the wordmark repeat the bindu, so the icon and the name speak as one.

The wordmark

Lowercase "myfitbrain" in Poppins Medium, hand-spaced. Lowercase feels approachable; one word is easy to remember and type.

Built on simple proportions

Part	Rule
Icon	Built in a 100 × 100 unit square
Bubble line	11 units thick, rounded joins
Bindu	28 units wide, centred in the bubble body
Gap	Icon to wordmark = 22 units
Wordmark	Poppins Medium, x-height centred on the bindu line
Clear space (x)	One bindu width (28 units) on every side

Never redraw the logo. Always use the master files in 01_Logo. All text in the logo is already converted to shapes.

Seven versions, one family

Horizontal
Default. Website header, documents, most uses.

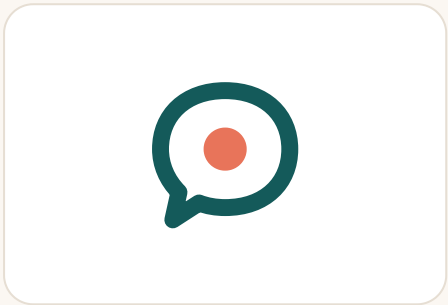

Horizontal + tagline
Brand moments: ads, banners, covers.

Stacked
Square or tall spaces: posters, standees.

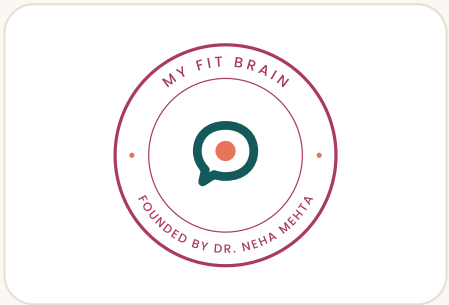

Stacked + tagline
Covers, event backdrops, card fronts.

Icon
App icon, favicon, profile pictures, watermark.

Endorsed
Webinar funnel, booking pages, NRI ads.

Founder seal
Assessment reports, certificates only.

Pick the version that fits the background

Full colour
First choice on cream or white.

Reverse
On Deep Teal or Teal Night.

Mono teal
One-colour print, embroidery, stamps.

Black
Black-only print, newspapers, fax.

White
On photos or dark colours where coral clashes.

DO
Use full colour on cream or white. Use reverse on teal. Keep good contrast.

DON'T
Put the full-colour logo on teal, coral or a busy photo. Never place it on a mid-grey.

Give it room. Keep it readable.

Clear space

Keep a free area of one bindu width (x) around the logo. No text, edges or images inside it. The master files already include this space.

Minimum size

Version	Screen	Print
Horizontal	120 px wide	25 mm wide
Horizontal + tagline	180 px wide	40 mm wide
Stacked	80 px wide	18 mm wide
Icon	16 px	6 mm

Below the tagline minimum, use the logo without the tagline.

Optical sizes for the icon

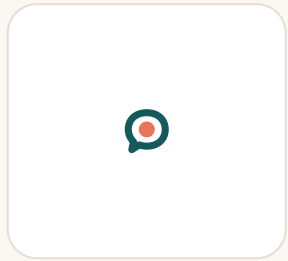

Small icons need a thicker line or they break up. Use the right file for the size.

Master
64 px and above. Line 11, bindu 28.

Small
24–64 px. Line 13, bindu 30.

Micro
Below 24 px. Line 16, bindu 36.

Favicons and app icons in 02_Digital_Sizes already use the correct optical size.

Protect the logo

Don't stretch or squash

Don't change the colours

Don't rotate

Don't add shadows or effects

Don't place on busy backgrounds

Don't rearrange the parts

Don't retype the wordmark

Don't turn the bubble into a brain

Dr. Neha's trust, carried by the whole team

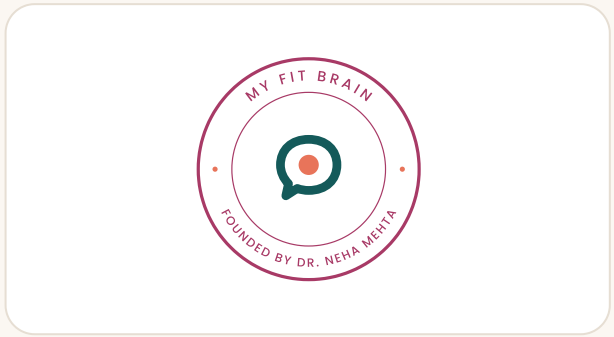

Her name is never part of the core logo. It appears as an endorsement, only where her trust helps a person take the first step.

Master
Website header, app, social profiles, corporate decks, therapist ID cards.

Endorsed
Webinar slides and pages, booking confirmations, About page, NRI ads.

Founder seal
Assessment reports, session plans, certificates. Not for ads.

Wording rule

Use "Founded by Dr. Neha Mehta" only. Do not write that Dr. Neha personally reviews or treats every case unless that is true for that client. A line such as "Reviewed under Dr. Neha's method" may be added later only once a written method, protocol and team training exist.

One brand, five service lines

MFB Assessments
Bubble and label in Deep Teal. Bindu and wordmark stay the same.

MFB Couples
Bubble and label in Rose. Bindu and wordmark stay the same.

MFB Intimacy & Wellness
Bubble and label in Plum. Bindu and wordmark stay the same.

MFB Corporate
Bubble and label in Slate. Bindu and wordmark stay the same.

MFB Teens
Bubble and label in Lake. Bindu and wordmark stay the same.

Only the bubble colour and the label change. The wordmark, coral bindu and i-dots never change. Never create a new service colour without updating these guidelines.

Space to speak.

Our brand line. It names what the open bubble shows: a space for you to talk.

- Always "Space to speak." with a capital S and a full stop.
- Use it next to the logo, on covers, banners and the website footer.
- Drop it below the minimum size (180 px / 40 mm).
- Never translate it inside the logo. A Hindi version may be used in Hindi campaigns as a separate line.

Lines we use

Space to speak.	Brand line, with the logo
Talk to someone who understands.	Campaign line: website hero, ads, webinar slides
Understood, in your language.	NRI and regional-language campaigns
For your mind and the people in it.	Couples and family campaigns
~~We Care For Your Emotions~~	Retired. Remove everywhere.

Speak like a calm, kind expert

We are

- Plain and simple — short sentences, everyday words
- Warm, never cute
- Honest about what therapy can and cannot do
- Respectful of family and culture

We say

- "Qualified therapist"
- "Talk to someone today"
- "It's okay to start small"
- "Screening" for assessments
- "Your information stays private"

We never say

- "Licensed" or "RCI-registered"
- "Cure", "guaranteed results", "fix you"
- Fear lines like "before it's too late"
- Fake urgency or countdowns
- Labels like "crazy", "mental", "victim"

Hard rules

No fake reviews or bought followers. No unverified outcome numbers. Follow DPDP (India), GDPR (EU), ASCI and medical ethics in every piece of communication. Always ask consent before collecting health information.

People, not problems

DO

Real Indian people

Talking, listening, walking, at home or at work. Natural light.

DO

Warm and quiet

Soft daylight, cream and teal tones, space around the person.

DO

Diverse

Women, men, couples, teens, elders, NRIs. Different regions and body types.

DO

Honest

Real moments, not posed smiles. Faces may be partly turned for privacy.

AVOID

Head in hands

Despair stock images make people feel worse.

AVOID

Dark, blue, rainy scenes

We are calm, not gloomy.

AVOID

Brain illustrations

Too clinical, and used by everyone.

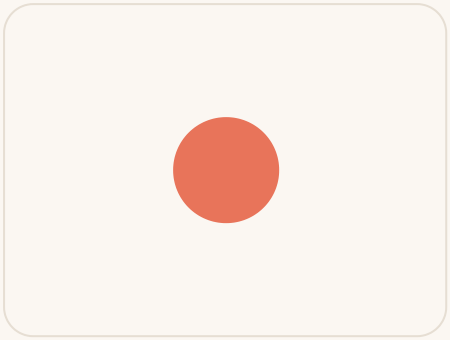

AVOID

Over-retouched models

Feels like an ad, not care.

Use licensed stock or our own shoots only. Get written consent from anyone photographed. Never show a real client.

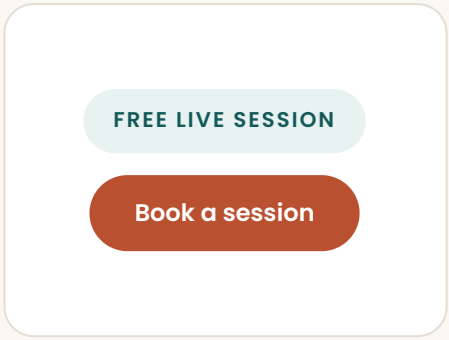

A small, quiet toolkit

The bindu dot
A single coral dot above a headline. One per layout.

Bubble watermark
The icon at 8–10% opacity, cropped at a corner.

Pills
Labels in Teal Mist, buttons in Coral Deep. Always fully rounded.

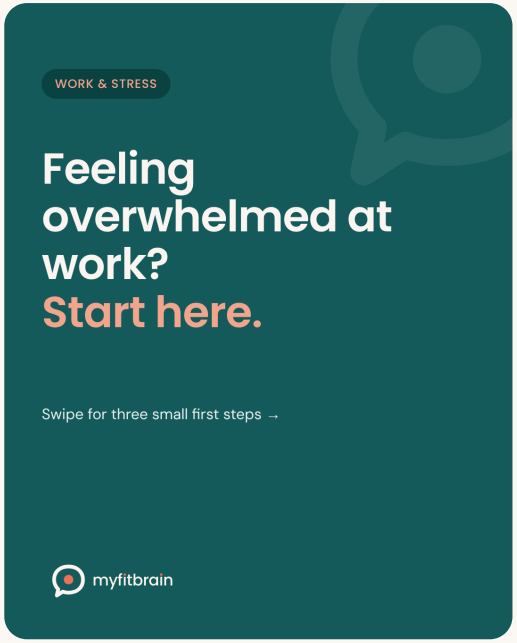

Cards
White, 1 px Sand border, soft rounded corners (14 px).

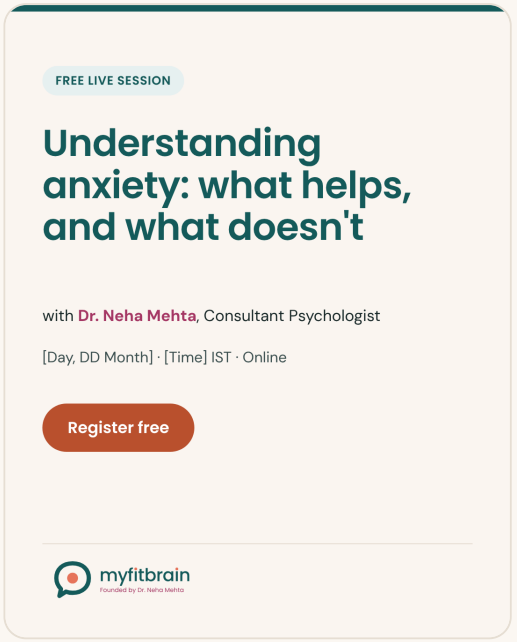

Icons

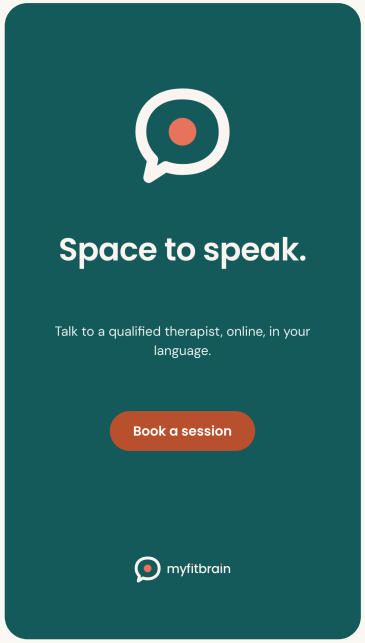

Use simple outline icons with rounded ends, 2 px line, in Deep Teal. Do not mix filled and outline styles. Avoid medical symbols such as pills, crosses or brains.
